

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
December 13, 2004

PIEDMONT EXTENDS LANDING GEAR CAPABILITIES

(Kernersville, NC) – Piedmont Aviation Component Services recently added ATR42 Landing Gear to its list of capabilities.

Jennifer Giordano, Piedmont Landing Gear Marketing Manager, sees two benefits to the addition. "Adding ATR42 to our landing gear menu allows us to service additional equipment for our current customers, as well as expand our customer base. We've become more of a one-stop shop for landing gear. Plus, we now offer services to a new group of customers flying the Dash 8 300 series."

"Two of our longstanding customers are now flying ATR42's and we have to be in position to support their needs", says Piedmont President Tom Ferrell. "With this addition, our capabilities continue to broaden. Along with our superior service, this translates into enhanced value for our customers."

As a further addition, Piedmont is now offering the Dash 8 300 series landing gear equipment for loan/exchange purposes. "Our landing gear loan/exchange program is just another way we work with our customers to keep their planes in the air," says Market Manager Jennifer Giordano.